SILBERSTEIN, AWAD & MIKLOS, PC

One thing Silberstein, Awad & Miklos' senior partner Joseph P. Awad knows with certainty is that people don't come looking for their help in good times. "Everyone comes to us when they have had an enormous traumatic event that has had a pervasive effect on themselves and their family," says Mr. Awad. "They couldn't have planned for this, and now they need legal help—help which means a successful prosecution of their legal rights in an efficient and expeditious manner."

When it comes to finding the legal remedy—and finding it fast—the best advantage the firm can offer its clients is experience. Silberstein, Awad & Miklos has the experience of arguing before the appellate courts on matters of law more than 100 times, and has recovered more than $1 billion for clients in the trial courts. Mr. Awad states, "A senior partner oversees an experienced associate on each client's case. That dedication and the wealth of our experience is a benefit to anyone who has been wrongfully harmed and who now needs a lawyer."

That experience and dedication has earned Silberstein, Awad & Miklos Tier 1 ranking in New York City for both plaintiffs' medical malpractice law and personal injury litigation by U.S. News – Best Lawyers "Best Law Firms" in 2016, and earned Mr. Awad and senior partner Joseph Miklos 2016 listings in The Best Lawyers in America in both the personal injury litigation and medical malpractice law fields.

And though the accolades the firm has earned are evident in the results it achieves for its clients, Silberstein, Awad & Miklos prides itself too on its process. "Our motto is: We know who to talk to, where to find the answers, and what steps are necessary to find success," says Mr. Awad.

According to Mr. Miklos, medical malpractice suits in particular present challenges for jurors. "It can be complicated presenting to a jury the details of a medical negligence case where a baby is injured at birth, or an electrician is left unable to earn a living due to hospital negligence. Jurors may start out thinking how can two or even three doctors get something so wrong because jurors assume doctors communicate with one another, or pay attention to details, when often they don't," says Mr. Miklos.

The trial of a personal injury case can require tens of thousands of dollars in costs of retaining scientific experts. Silberstein Awad & Miklos has the strength and experience to take on these challenges, affording all New Yorkers the excellent legal representation they deserve.

"We take on those challenges," says Mr. Awad. "From around the state, cases are referred to us. And we have a record of success, time and again."
